

The kingdom of Ayland was in turmoil

The king and queen had died, leaving behind them a young daughter, Princess Aurora

Aurora was only six years old when her parents died, and so the kingdom was left in the care of her uncle,

Duke Henry was a kind man, and he loved his niece dearly

But he was also a ambitious man, and he had his sights set on the throne

So when it became clear that the people of Ayland would not accept him as their king, he hatched a plan to

He had a tower built in the middle of the forest, and he had Aurora locked away inside it

The only person who was allowed to visit her was her nurse, who brought her food and supplies

Phillip returned the next day with a ladder

He climbed up to the window and helped Aurora down

They rode off into the sunset, and they lived happily ever after

